Timor-Leste, formerly known as East Timor, became the world's newest, independent nation, in May, 2002. Situated north west of Darwin, between Australia and Indonesia, Timor - Leste is already beginning to draw small numbers of travelers to the island. With its beautiful, unspoiled beaches, world class scuba diving, spectacular landscapes and rich history, it is easy to see why.

Timor-Leste offers the adventurous diver the opportunity to explore the unexplored. The diving is world class with kilometres of majestic walls, that drop off into the deep blue sea, acres of untouched reefs, and an abundance of prolific marine life. Dolphin and Whale watching cruises can also be arranged on request. The best time of the year for diving is February to April and September to December.

Beautiful beaches with sheltered coves and white sands lie in both directions from Dili, with snorkeling and diving just a fifteen minute drive away. With the introduction onto the world tourism stage, Timor -Leste will continue to thrive and grow. The people are warm and friendly and look forward to welcoming visitors to their homeland. Be one of the first to explore this unique and exciting island nation and experience some of the best and as yet untouched diving in the world.
